what is the chain of events?

I am telling TRUTH when I say only imam will advise me to share. Becaus those are his kids. And I am hoping y'all understand why is everyone accusing your sister of practicing magic?

My sister tells me everything and I mean no secrets. She never mention to me that she is involve in black magic. In fact like I stated on a story . While this was going on, I shared a story that took place here and she advised me to stay far away from that friend because going to that man house knowing he practices magic might get Allah angry with me

I first heard it on fb. Then from Tariq

All Know is, she had friend in the community who would share stories with her

I have many people who've told me they witnessed her doing certain things while in her presence, specifically in the past 2 years.

it's been a long time rumor surrounding her.

some people claim to have seen her burying roots.

No no.. I am answering the question u asked.. we didn't see something. Ibn found something in real life? what? like, magic components?

Like I said.. imam siraj only will I talk to and he can decide if he wants to share

I know what you think he found. I heard a long time ago. some black magic stuff, in the basement I believe.

why do they think it's Hakima is my question

That I can answer from my understanding

Whenever we thought something

It would actually happen differently than what we would discuss

Like example

They would get caught or raid

Ibn would die

he had complications and wasn't breathing at first because of a complication at birth but he wasn't technically "dead"
